

Kinks, Resonance & Pleasure with Vanessa Langer

Over two days, we will dive into an embodied playground of sensations, an experiential exploration of kinks, pleasure and resonance.

We will explore how a person's emotions, internal and physical states can influence and amplify within a group, like a sound wave spreading and setting other objects into vibration.

How does resonance move through intimacy?

How do our bodies echo one another in a shared field?

What happens when I let myself be touched, not by hand, but by the vibration of another's aliveness?

Through the pulse of pleasure, we will deepen our somatic awareness, discovering how desire, and curiosity live in the body.

What is my relationship with pleasure?

How does my body open, resist or melt in the presence of pleasure?

How do I experience pleasure in a collective setting?

This workshop invites a sensual presence, an exploration of pleasure as energy, sensation, and vibration. We play across a spectrum of experience: from the subtle and sensory to the raw and erotic, in solo, through energetic exchange, or consensual touch.

More specifically, we will play with our own sensuality, embody our pleasure from different angles and explore ways to increase and expand sensations of pleasure in our bodies. We'll also play with acting out our fantasies in experimental and kinky ways, without fulfilling them but feeling them and explore edging orgasm with or without involving our genitals.

There will also be times for play space to implement what has been experienced in more structured exercises.

In a free and spontaneous way, attuned to the present moment, you will be able to participate or simply observe, and feel free to be who you are within the experience. Nudity is possible, respecting your desires and boundaries. The workshop can also be done without nudity.

The workshop is open to all genders, all bodies and all sexual orientations. Suitable for solos, couples and any other constellations. Come with comfortable clothes. You can take kinky clothes as well if you like. Please remember to bring a large towel or cloth. You are also welcome to bring tools and toys.
